DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-19 are presented for examination.

Specification

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it exceeds 25 lines. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 102(e) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

4. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by MacNaughton US pat. No.6,020,884.

As to claim 1, MacNaughton discloses a method for facilitating a chat session between a first user and a second user, both visiting a first web server (18 fig.1A), the method comprising:

Art Unit: 2155

receiving, from the first user, a first user ID (user preference) corresponding to the first user and an address of the first web server (see fig.1A, 1B, abstract, col.7 lines 9-56, col.8 lines 26-41 and col.9 lines 6-52);

receiving, from the second user, a second user ID corresponding to the second user and the address of the first web server providing and providing to the first user, at least an indication of the second user ID (col.9 lines 6-52);

receiving, from the first user, a request to open one of a public chat session, a semi-public chat session and a private chat session with the second user and transmitting, to the second user, an indication that the first user has requested one of the public chat session, the semi-public chat session and the private chat session (using notifications, see col.9 line 6 to col.10 line 32);

receiving, from the second user, an acceptance to enter the chat session designated by the first user (see col. 9 line 6 to col.10 line 32).

As to claim 2, MacNaughton discloses the chat session is a public chat session and wherein the chat session is visible to other users (see col.9 lines 6-52).

As to claim 3, MacNaughton discloses the chat session is a private chat session and wherein the chat session is not visible to other users (see col.9 line 27 to col.10 line 32).

Art Unit: 2155

As to claim 4, MacNaughton discloses the chat session is a semi-public chat session and wherein the chat session is visible only to users having a predetermined user profile (see col.9 line 27 to col.10 line 32 and col.8 lines 10-57).

As to claim 5, MacNaughton discloses receiving, from the first user, a query for information regarding other users visiting the first web site, and searching a user database to determine which users are visiting the first web site (see col.8 line 11 to col.9 line 52).

As to claim 6, MacNaughton discloses the query including a request for other users predetermined personal data (see col.9 lines 6-52).

Claim 7 is rejected for the same reasons set forth in claim 1.

As to claims 8 and 9, MacNaughton discloses displaying to the user the usage information in a graphical format and text format (see col.1 line 42 to col.2 line 46 and col.3 line 42 to col.4 line 42).

As to claims 10 and 11, MacNaughton discloses the usage information is displayed automatically to the user and only upon a command generated by the user (see col.7 line 9 to col.8 line 25).

Art Unit: 2155

As to claim 12, MacNaughton discloses:

receiving, from the first user, a first user ID (user preference) corresponding to the first user and an address of the first web server (see fig. 1A, 1B, abstract, col.7 lines 9-56, col.8 lines 26-41 and col.9 lines 6-52);

receiving, from the second user, a second user ID corresponding to the second user and the address of the first web server providing and providing to the first user, at least an indication of the second user ID (col.9 lines 6-52);

receiving, from the first user, a request to open one of a public chat session, a semi-public chat session and a private chat session with the second user and transmitting, to the second user, an indication that the first user has requested one of the public chat session, the semi-public chat session and the private chat session (using notifications, see col.9 line 6 to col.10 line 32);

receiving, from the second user, an acceptance to enter the chat session designated by the first user (see col. 9 line 6 to col.10 line 32).

Claim 13 is rejected for the same reasons set forth in claim 1. As to the added limitation, MacNaughton discloses a processor (28 fig.1A).

As to claim 14, MacNaughton discloses:

Art Unit: 2155

receiving, from the user (user preference) a designation of the first web page as a homepage and monitoring usage of homepage by a plurality of users (see fig.1A, 1B, abstract, col.5 line 42 to col.6 line 61, col.8 lines 26-41 and col.9 lines 6-52);

transmitting data representative of the usage to the user when the user is visiting a second web page (see col.6 line 12 to col.7 line 7).

Claim 15 is rejected for the same reasons set forth in claim 14. As to the added limitations, MacNaughton discloses a processor (28 fig.1A) and a memory for storing processing instructions (Via Community Server, see col.5 line 42 to col.6 line 61).

Claims 16 and 17 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in claim 12.

Claim 18 is rejected for the same reasons set forth in claim 12.
